There is someone waiting for him.2. There was nobody injured. there be There exist some old men seated in the back, as well as a red car parked outside the house. There is no difficulty in finding his office, and there was no harm in carrying out the plan. There's no point in wasting time, and there's no sense in telling her about this; she'll finish the job in her own good time. No one was left to look after the child, but there was someone sent to give him a ride. There is so much work to do that we can't take any risks, and there is nothing to see or know about what will happen next. Sorry, there's no smoking in the waiting room, and it's not permitted to photograph here. There exist some new problems such as being dishonest, but there is a way to solve them.There isn't a boy on the stage.There are no boys on the stage either.--(1),?
