GPS technology and devices Using Garmin etrex 10 April 17, 2017 Geocaching is a real-world, outdoor adventure that is happening all the time, all over the world. To play, participants use the Geocaching® app and/or a GPS-enabled device to navigate to cleverly hidden containers called geocaches. There are millions of geocaches in 191 countries waiting to be discovered. Thanks to our recent collaboration with Geocaching, Premium members can now send a list of geocaches to their Garmin GPS device with the click of a button. We teamed up with Geocaching on this new feature to make geocaching with your Garmin GPS easier than ever. We admit it. Downloading geocaches to your GPS device hasn't always been easy. But that's about to change. Thanks to our recent collaboration with Garmin, Premium members can now send a list of geocaches to their Garmin GPS device with the click of a button. We teamed up with Garmin on this new feature to make geocaching with your Garmin GPS easier than ever. This is how it works: Download the latest version of Garmin Express. Search for geocaches you want to find. Add those caches to a list. Visit My Lists. Select 'Send to Garmin.' Unplug and go geocaching! What list will you add to your Garmin device? Try Send to Garmin now. Share your recent cache finds with us on Garmin Outdoor through Instagram, Twitter, and Facebook and be sure to use #HaveNoLimits. Happy caching! Geocaching is a treasure hunting activity in which players hide or search for hidden caches using clues and GPS coordinates. Home General geocaching discussions How do I...? Garmin Etrex 10 Home General geocaching discussions How do I...? Garmin Etrex 10 You can load geocaches manually onto your device using a computer (Transferring Files to Your Device). You can place the geocache files into a GPX file and import them into the GPX folder on the device. With a premium membership to geocaching.com, you can use the "pocket query" feature to load a large group of geocaches onto your device as a single GPX file. Connect the device to your computer using a USB cable. Go to www.geocaching.com. If necessary, create an account. Sign in. Follow the instructions at www.geocaching.com to find and download geocaches to your device.
