How to get free gems genshin impact. Genshin impact free gems hack. Genshin impact free primogems hack.

Genshin Impact recently released Update 3.1, where you can now freely explore the new Sumerian Desert expansion, as well as the sequels Sumerian ACT III and IV Archon Quest. This patch also features the newly released playable characters Cyno, Candace, and Nilou, as well as a relaunch of the Venti and Albedo banners. Not only that, the new patch has announced another limited event where players return to Mondstadt to celebrate the Weinlesefest. The new patch brings new ways to get free Primogems for Free-To-Play (F2P) players. This guide gives users a rough estimate of how many free premium games any player can get by playing all of the content in the Genshin Impact 3.1 update. An image using the Hoyoverse 3.1 patch will only last five weeks instead of the usual six weeks. Players can earn a total of 60 primo games in thirty-five days if they complete their quests. In total, you can get 2100 primogems (35 x 60). The painting above the Hoyover Spiral Abyss resets every 15 days from the 8th to the 12th floor. Each floor has three chambers that reward you with 50 auxiliaries if the player completes the task on time (so players can get 150 auxiliaries per floor). Each spin of Spiral Abyss awards a total of 600 Primogems. The Abyss resets roughly three times in 3.1, meaning you can get a total of 1800 Primogems (600 x 3). 3. Image of Paimon's Bargains (Stardust Exchange) via Hoyoverse The Paimon's Bargains store has a Stardust Exchange section where players can purchase a total of 5 Familiar Fates and 5 Linked Fates in exchange for Stardust (obtained by a wish). The store resets every month on the first day of the week, so be sure to buy Fates before then. According to the patch timeline, players can receive 10 interconnected destinies (1600 birthrights) during the update. 4. Advice. Players don't have to spend a whole month to get 60 PrimeGames, just log into the game 18 days in a row. When a new patch update comes out, it takes a few hours (usually around 5 hours) for the update to take hold for Genshin Impact. After maintenance, players can log in to enjoy the new patch update and receive maintenance compensation (600 primos) via email. Please note that players must claim this letter during the update or it will expire. 6. Version 3.2 Livestream To create buzz around new updates, Genshin Impact usually hosts a livestream of the upcoming patch, showing snippets from trailers and discussions. They offer three codes to use during the live stream and each code will reward you with 100 Primogems. You can get 300 primogems in total. Be sure to use the codes as soon as possible, as they expire in 24 hours or less. 7. Test Runs Image via Hoyoverse Each five-star banner displayed during updates has a test run where players can try out the in-game characters and how they work. Once the test runs are completed, players can request 20 birthright and resurrection materials for these characters. Characters such as Cyno, Venti, Albedo, and Nilou will be powered during Update 3.1, giving you a total of 80 original characters. 8.
