Q.1) What is the central idea of the essay 'Drug Abuse in Youth of Pakistan'? Answer:The title clearly explains what the essay is all about. The central idea of the essay 'Drug Abuse in Youth of Pakistan' is that the youth is becoming addicted to drugs due to various reasons such as academic pressure, over expectations of parents, the communication gap between parents and youth, and easy availability of drugs at educational institutions. The ratio of addicted youth has increased manifolds in recent years in Pakistan. The excessive use of drugs is badly affecting the physical and mental health of the youth making them unable to perform well in their studies. Q.1) What idea does the parting of the beloved bring into Poet's mind? Answer:The parting of the beloved brings the thought of loneliness and dullness in the mind of the poet. He considers life meaningless and boring due to the absence of the beloved. It is just like a dream for the poet as nothing is permanent. He believes that their union is also like a dream. Federal English Notes Class 11 Chapter 17 Q.1) What is McWhirter's tone? Illustrate it with a few words and phrases that establish the tone. Answer:McWhirter's tone of the essay is quite serious and heavy. It is judged through his writing style. In this essay, he has criticized the society that people are in a bad habit of judging others for what they do or with what profession they belong. He has used the question technique so to draw the readers' attention towards the serious but ignored the subject matter. He uses the words like a retired teacher, a laid-off worker, just something valued and valueless, etc. to establish the tone. Federal English Notes Class 11 Chapter 16 Q.1) What does Baker see as the difference between school and education? Answer:Baker sees a great difference between school and education, he says that children start learning about various things from their parents, and surroundings and that is education. He says that before entering the school, the children have already mastered various skills. On the other hand, in schools children are usually taught about defeating and destroying opponents and that means real success. Federal English Notes Class 11 Chapter 15 Q.1) Compare Thurber's approach to seeing the cell of the flower with that of his teacher and other students. Is he, in your view, making fun of himself, other students, or of teacher's ways of instruction? Explain. Answer:Thurber is always witty in his writings. One can feel a sense of humor in his literary work. In this essay, Thurber's approach to seeing the cell of the flower with that of his teacher and other students is quite different. The reason behind this is his disinterest in the subject of botany and some eyesight issues as well. Due to this, he never understands the botany lectures and he is also unable to see anything in the microscope. He is in one way or the other is making fun of fellow students and his teacher's way of instruction as well. We come to know about this as his attitude always irritates the botany teacher and the way the teacher shows his frustration really becomes a source of amusement to Thurber. Q.1) Write the central idea of 'A Long Walk Home'. Answer:The central idea of this personal narrative 'A Long Walk Home' rests on the major aspect of life i.e. parents-children relationship. The activities of children cast a direct influence on their parents. Any wrong act of a child can hurt a parent's feelings and emotions. Through this short story, we should learn the lesson of not telling a lie to our parents as this raise a question about their upbringing. Parents do their best for their children, in return, it is the duty and responsibility of their children to give them respect and must not involve themselves in mischievous activities that would bring shame to their parents. A simple lie of the son 'Jason' becomes a great source of pain to his father. Rather than getting angry with Jason, his father blamed himself for that act of lying to his son. Federal English Notes Class 11 Chapter 13 Ozymandias Q.1) What is the theme of the poem 'Ozymandias'? Answer:The theme of the poem rests on the fact that everything comes to an end and nothing is immortal in this world. It gives a reminder to the affluent, powerful people of the society that their power, achievement, fame, and fortune have no real worth as they are temporary. Those who think that they have all the powers and they are going to enjoy the same position and stature forever, are actually deceiving themselves. Federal English Notes Class 11 Chapter 12 The Blanket Q.1) How significant is the title of the story 'The Blanket'? Answer:The title of the story is very significant as it is the blanket that is given by a son to his dad as a going away gift. Furthermore, with the same blanket, Peter teaches a lesson to his dad when he asks his father to cut it into two. He then says to his dad that when he would be old then he would send him to the old house and give half of this blanket to him as a going-away gift. Federal English Notes Class 11 Chapter 11 The Importance of Family Q.1) What is the central idea of Keen's essay and how is it related to the title?
