Reels is the brand new feature of Instagram that allows users to shoot short 15 second videos on Instagram. If you have used TikTok, Facebook-owned Instagram took advantage of the situation and rolled out a promising alternative, Instagram Reels. The feature has presently been launched in 50 countries across the globe including India and the USA. The feature not only allows users to create videos on the app, but they can also get creative with filters and add their own audio or choose music from the ever-expanding massive library it offers. The millennials have already given Reels a rapturous reception and it has become the new fun task while people still stay indoors during the pandemic. Additionally, Reels is also shaping up for business owners as a new way to build a community and grow their organic reach and authority while sharing snippets of their work. Brands and influencers are using the feature to teasers for their audience. Influencers working on niches such as beauty, fitness, fashion, food, jewelry, clothing, and event management are making the most of it. The difficult-to-crack Instagram algorithm is also known to favor increasing engagement over Reels. Besides the variety of the soundtrack collection, Reels also curates an assortment of trending and classic tracks to suit your taste and mood. A visit to the Reels library spoils you for choice.
