A variety of Minecraft skins is presented here, which will make the game more interesting. Each player wants to change the default character look sooner or later. This way you can give your character more personality. Both guys and girls will be able to find skins according to their preferences on this site. "Steve" "Alex" The Steve skin when directly opened in an image viewer. Skins refer to the textures that are placed onto a player or mob model. Properties[] Skins are divided into areas that act as the surface area of the character (for example, the front head area, left leg area, etc.). A skin will only allow solid color; transparency is not allowed on the skin file except on the second layer, which is transparent by default; playing offline, pixels can be left free resulting in "holes" in the skin. If a skin with transparent pixels on the first layer is uploaded, the transparent pixels will render as black pixels in-game. The second layer can be used to give the character glasses, hats, or other accessories (even a bigger head). World textures[] A skin can also refer to other textures in the game, such as block textures, item sprites, mob skins, etc. A list of these can be found here. It is worth noting that zombie and zombie pigmen mobs can use typical player skins (and vice-versa). Skeleton mobs can use typical player skins as well, but keep in mind that they have their skinny arms and legs. (If a skeleton mob skin is used as a player's skin, their legs and arms will not be skinny.) In order to use the player skin for zombies and zombie pigmen you must align it to the correct place on the .png or the texture will be broken. Changing / installing player skins[] Computer edition[] A player can only change their character's skin if they have purchased Minecraft. This is done on the Profile page by uploading a valid .png image file (note: .jpg files will be accepted), which will then replace the default skin. Skins also have the option of having 3 or 4 pixel wide arms, which can be changed on the profile page as well.[1] The steve.png and alex.png files in minecraft.jar can also be changed and replaced via a resource pack, but the effects will only be visible to players using the resource pack, and will affect all players with the default skin. Console Edition[] This page would benefit from the addition of one or more images. Please add a suitable image, then remove this notice. The specific instructions are: Add the remaining Alex skins to the table below. A variety of Alex skins available in the Console Edition. Left to right: Tennis, Tuxedo, Athlete, Default, Swedish, Cyclist, Prisoner, and Boxer. There are currently 16 default skin types (with the exception of the skin packs), 8 of which are based on the Steve model and the other 8 based on the Alex model, wearing different outfits and skin colors. The skins are available to be chosen in the "Change Skin" area of Help & Options. The Console Edition allows transparent skins, because the player cannot create their own skins. This prevents issues with completely transparent skin users "haunting" other players. The player can add custom skins to the console editions via hacking; however, this will void the warranty of the console, and the player risks a ban from either Xbox Live or PlayStation Network for an illicitly modded game or console. Skins in Default Skin Pack Name Image Original Player Notes Steve (Default Skin) Azyto-Casual Steve.png Player 1's Skin The classic Steve. Tennis Steve Player 2's Skin A blond Steve in a tennis outfit and a sweatband. Tuxedo Steve Player 3's Skin Steve in a fancy-looking tuxedo. Athlete Steve Player 4's Skin A darker version of Steve with a sleeveless top, a gold medal necklace, and track pants. Scottish Steve[note 1] Player 5's Skin Steve in a kilt with fancy hair and clothing. Prisoner Steve Player 6's Skin Steve as an escapee from prison in a bright-colored, prison uniform. It seems as if he resembles an albino, with red eyes and off white hair. Cyclist Steve Player 7's Skin A Steve with bicycling shorts, a jacket, and shoes. Boxer Steve Player 8's Skin A Steve with boxing gloves, a belt with short shorts, no shirt, and fancy boots. Alex The classic Alex. Tennis Alex A darker Alex in a tennis outfit and a sweatband. Tuxedo Alex Alex in a fancy-looking dress. Athlete Alex A dark haired Alex with a running shirt and track pants. Swedish Alex[note 1] Alex in the Sweden suit with blonde hair. Prisoner Alex Alex as an escapee from prison in a bright-colored prison uniform with brown hair. Cyclist Alex An Alex with blue glasses, bicycling shorts, a jacket, shorts, and shoes Boxer Alex An Alex with boxing gloves, short shorts, red boots and t-shirt. 1 a b The country-based skins are references to the countries developing the game; Mojang is located in Sweden, and 4J Studios is located in Scotland. Pocket Edition[] Since Alpha 0.11.0, Players can choose one of the two default skins either Steve or Alex, and can apply their own custom skin. (Uses the same format as the PC edition). The player must select a valid skin image from their photo library, and will then be prompted to choose between the two main models. Players can also buy skin packs which cost $0.99 USD each. Those skin packs are as follows: Villains, Biome Settlers Pack 2, Story Mode Skin Pack, Redstone Specialists, Journey To The West, Holiday Skin Pack 2015, Biome Settlers Pack 1, Halloween Costumes, City Folk, and Town Folk. Skin packs[] One example of a skin pack available in the Console Edition. Skin Packs are available in the Console Edition and in the Pocket Edition as downloadable content. Skin Packs add additional skins that players may choose from along with the 16 default skins (2 in Pocket Edition) packaged with the game. They often feature characters from other video games, alongside original designs. Creating a skin[] Many players want to have a new look, something which describes them. While you can always search the internet for a previously made skin, many players prefer to create their own. A custom skin is a great way to personalize your player model and can be done either by using a variety of community-made skin editors, or by editing the "steve.png" file manually with an image editor like Photoshop, GIMP, Paint.net or similar image editors. The "steve.png" file can be downloaded from here and a playerskin can be downloaded from where "USERNAME" is replaced by the playername. When editing the "steve.png" file manually, be sure to keep the original image dimensions and make the background of the skin (the unused pixels) completely transparent. Otherwise, Minecraft may fail to recognize the skin as intended. Alternatively, some people find it easier to use a program, either downloadable or in-browser, which will allow them to have a live view of their character on a three dimensional model as they are editing the skin. For example, a program called Skincraft will further assist players by providing them with a wide variety of pre-made selections (such as hats, boots, sweaters, etc.), to give the skin creator exactly what they want, even if the creator has little to no artistic skill. After making a custom skin, either by using a skin editor or by editing the "steve.png" file directly, one will still need to upload the .png file at the Profile page of www.minecraft.net before the skin is applied. Once completed, start up Minecraft and enjoy your new skin! Other players in multiplayer will also be able to see your skin. Note that you will not be able to see your custom skin if you are not logged in or if playing offline. A color-coded skin template on transparent background with all faces labeled. Another skin guide, but on a black background. For the arm and leg sections only, "right" indicates those facing outward, and "left" indicates inward. The new skin template that will work with Minecraft version 1.8; you can create a second layer on every body part with this template. An adaptation of the previous template, color-coded to match the appropriate faces of the skin- front, back, left, right, top and bottom. The checked areas represent the secondary layer. A template for the new model available in the 1.8 version. It features slimmer arms. To select the new model, go to the profile page in the Minecraft website to select it. An adaptation of the slimmer arms template, color-coded to match the appropriate faces of the skin- front, back, left, right, top and bottom. The checked areas represent the secondary layer. Note: the 1.8 templates can be used for pre-1.8 skins on the skin server. Only the top half of the image is used, e.g. not the individual arms and legs on the bottom, and no overlay on any layer except the head. If the skins is in resource pack for 1.7, you must use the old system exactly. There can be up to 3.06x1023,581 unique Minecraft skins. History[] Classic 0.0.17a 02Custom player skin test. 0.0.18aCustom skins released. Alpha 1.2.2Player skins can be modified. Beta 1.6.6The player skin originally had a beard that was commonly mistaken for a smile. The beard was removed in Beta 1.6.6. Official release 1.0.0Beta 1.9-pre1All "bottom" textures (including hand and foot) have been flipped 180 degrees. It's worth mentioning that the textures were specifically flipped and not rotated because an updated texture with the bottom surface rotated as opposed to flipped may display incorrectly depending on the intended alignment with relation to the rest of the skin. April 1, 2014On April 1st, all skins applied to players were changed to Villager skins as an April Fool's prank, and trying to edit or change the skin will not work. Capes were still shown, however, if the user had one. 1.814w03aSkins have received an overhaul; right and left legs/arms can now be edited independently and the hat layer now counts for the whole body, meaning overlays can now be added on skins. This means there are now up to 3.06x1023,581 unique Minecraft skins instead of 2.29x1011,328 previously. 14w04aNow displays the right arm's second layer in first person view. pre1Added a new player model with smaller arms, and a new player skin called Alex. 1.915w47aOverlay layers (hat, jacket, sleeves, and pants) correctly render semitransparent pixels, instead of only fully opaque and fully transparent pixels. Pocket Edition Alpha 0.11.0build 1Added skins. Players can choose "Steve" and "Alex" models or their own custom skin (uses the same format as PC). build 10Added the first two skin packs: City Folk and Town Folk. Each skin pack has 5 free skins, and purchasing the skin pack will unlock the rest of the skins. Skin packs cost USD $0.99. 0.12.3Added the Halloween Costumes skin pack. 0.13.0build 5Added the "Biome Settlers" skin pack. 0.13.1Added the Holiday Festival 2015 skin pack. 0.13.2Added the Journey to The West skin pack. 0.14.0build 7Added the Redstone Specialists skin pack. 0.14.1Added Minecraft: Story Mode skins. 0.14.3Added Biome Settlers 2 skin pack. 0.15.4Added Villains skin pack. Console Edition TU3CU11.0Patch 1The first skin pack is available as downloadable content. TU24CU121.168 'Alex' model skins added to default skin pack. References[] 1
